

ANSHUL DOSHI - GLOBAL COO

Based in London, Anshul is the Global COO for the Prime Focus group, responsible for the management of the UK and North American companies. He joined the Prime Focus group in 2004, as a finance analyst for the Indian operations, and was quickly promoted to VP Strategy & Business Development for India. In 2006, Anshul moved to London to oversee the purchase of VTR plc by Prime Focus, and subsequently managed the integration of the acquired London companies and the attendant business audit and management reshuffle. He was also closely involved in the acquisition of the North American companies, and continues to oversee their operation.

Previous to his time at Prime Focus, Anshul was employed by KPMG in India as a Corporate Finance analyst, specializing in the media industry, and before that he was Business Development Manager for a voice recognition technology company, and a chartered accountant performing valuations and due diligence for a number of blue chip firms.

Anshul holds a law degree from Government Law College Mumbai, is a Bachelor of Commerce graduate and is a certified chartered accountant.
